Star Trek: Discovery is een geplande televisieserie in de reeks van Star Trek, geschreven en geproduceerd door Bryan Fuller en Alex Kurtzman voor CBS. De opnames vinden plaats in 2016, uitzending van de eerste aflevering was aanvankelijk gepland voor januari 2017, maar is uitgesteld tot mei 2017[1].

De reeks zal zich tien jaar voor Star Trek: The Original Series afspelen, in de "normale" tijdlijn (dus niet in de alternatieve tijdlijn die voor de nieuwe films gebruikt worden). In tegenstelling tot de vorige series in de reeks, zal de hoofdrolspeler niet de kapitein maar een vrouwelijke luitenant-commander zijn.

Er worden (voorlopig) 13 afleveringen opgenomen in de Pinewood Toronto Studios van september 2016 tot maart 2017. © bron wikipedia

Star Trek: Discovery - CBS.com

Star Trek: Discovery is an upcoming American television series created by Bryan Fuller and Alex Kurtzman for CBS All Access. It is the first series developed specifically for that service, and the first Star Trek series since Star Trek: Enterprise concluded in 2005. Set roughly a decade before the events of the original Star Trek series, separate from the timeline of the concurrent feature films, Discovery explores a previously mentioned event from the history of Star Trek while following the crew of the USS Discovery. Gretchen J. Berg and Aaron Harberts serve as showrunners on the series, with producing support from Akiva Goldsman.

The new series was announced in November 2015, and Fuller joined as showrunner the next February. In addition to Fuller and Kurtzman, who wrote for previous Star Trek series and films, respectively, the crew includes several other previous Star Trek creatives. The production put emphasis on carrying on the legacy of the previous series, including making efforts to feature a diverse cast. In October 2016, Fuller stepped back from showrunner due to other commitments, after establishing the series' mythology and broad story arc. Berg and Harberts took over day-to-day production, and Goldsman joined as support. Discovery stars Sonequa Martin-Green, Doug Jones, Anthony Rapp, James Frain, Terry Serpico, Maulik Pancholy, and Sam Vartholomeos, and is filming in Toronto.

Star Trek: Discovery is set to debut on CBS before moving to All Access. The first season will consist of 13 episodes. © source Wikipedia
